Concerning RM-10870, the petition by the NCVEC for completely removing the code requirement. I belive this is impractical and should not proceed. Code should remain as it is important for both emergency communication as well as international relations.
 International communication can be held using code without either side having a conversational level in each other's language.